

Allen Dulles in "secret" talks

BONN, JUNE 27.

Mr Allen Dulles, director of the United States Central Intelligence Agency, called to-day on Dr Adenauer, the West German Chancellor.

Reporters and photographers, who are usually allowed into the grounds of the Schaumburg Palace, were kept outside during the visit, causing speculation that the meeting was also attended by General Reinhard Gehlen, head of the West German intelligence service.

Government spokesmen declined to say whether he attended to-day's meeting. No announcement was made of Mr Dulles's arrival in Bonn yesterday. —Reuter and British United Press.
